Choosing a Childminder

We update the attached list at least every four weeks.

Please contact Renate Laux, Childminding Information Officer on 020 7527 5927 or email childminding@islington.gov.uk if you have questions about choosing a childminder.

Childminders look after children in the childminder's own home. Ofsted, the Office for Standards in Education, Children's Services and Skills, registers and inspects them.

Good reasons for choosing a childminder:

- Your child will be in a home environment.
- Your child will have a familiar carer who provides fun and learning.
- Childminders can support families for years as children grow up.
- Childminders go to local children's centres, parks, toy libraries and community centres.
- Children often make friends with their childminder's other children.
- You may be able to get flexible hours.
- Childminders can join a quality assurance scheme (see childminding network) and this is one way of demonstrating to parents the high quality of care they are providing.

For a large print list, ring the Family Information Service (FIS) on 020 7527 5959

How do I know my child will be safe and secure?

Ofsted must register childminders before they begin work with children, which involves checks for safety in the home and suitability of everyone who lives in the home to be with children. Everyone who lives in the home and regular visitors over 16 must have a Criminal Records Bureau check. We list only childminders who are registered with Ofsted.

Childminders must display their Ofsted certificate and most show parents their latest inspection report. Newly registered childminders only have the Ofsted certificate, but to register they must have a current paediatric first aid certificate and attend training. Some have qualifications such as NVQ in Childcare and Early Years.

Visit several childminders with your child to compare them and see how they get on with your child.

How many children will there be?

There may be:

- No more than 6 children under age 8 altogether;
- No more than 3 children under age 5 altogether; and
- Rarely more than 1 baby under 12 months.
- Some childminders are registered for fewer children.
- Some childminders can look after more children if they use an assistant. This must be agreed with Ofsted and is noted on their Ofsted certificate.

How much will it cost?

Fees range from about £200 to £275 weekly, depending on the type of care given. Many low and middle income families can claim child tax credit, working tax credit and the childcare element.

Phone the Tax Credit helpline on 0845 300 3900 or visit the website www.hmrc.gov.uk/taxcredits
If you are a lone parent, contact the Lone Parent Advisers on 0800 868 868 for practical advice on affording childcare while you train or work.

Choosing a Childminder

When are childminders open?

Most childminders work between 8am and 6pm but some work earlier or later. Some childminders also work on weekends. Discuss hours, terms and conditions with the childminder.

What about part time childcare?

Childminders often provide part time, after school and holiday childcare. Some do school drops and collections.

Before visiting a childminder think about:

- a list of questions to ask;
- the hours you want;
- school holiday care;
- special needs;
- contracts – see the notes below.

If you make an appointment to visit a childminder but decide not to go, please ring to say you are not coming.

Suggested questions to ask:

- Can I see a copy of your registration and insurance certificates and your latest Ofsted report?
- What are your normal hours of work?
- What are your fees?
- Do the fees include meals?
- What are the charges for absence or sickness and holidays?
- When are you on holiday?
- What are your overtime rates?
- May I contact parents whose children you have looked after for references?
- How many other children do you look after and what are their ages?
- What training or experience do you have?
- What activities and routines do you provide for the children?
- What do you do about sweets, snacks and drinks?
- How do you manage difficult behaviour?
- Who else will be in the house when you are minding?
- Are you a member of the National Childminding Association?
- Do you drive? If so, does your car have the right seats and may I see your insurance certificate?
- Do you smoke?
- Do you have pets?
- Make second visits to the childminders you liked.
- Ask to see a copy of the contract the childminder uses.
- Spend time settling your child in.

'Stay and play plus' speed minding

You can meet local childminders at an informal 'stay and play plus speed minding' session. These sessions are held at children's centres. Some sessions are on a Saturday morning. You will have the opportunity to meet childminders and talk to them about services they offer. Staff from the Childminding Support Team will be available if you have further questions about using childminders as a childcare option.

The next sessions are:

- Saturday 10 March 2012, 10am–12noon at North Islington Nursery School and Children's Centre

For more information about 'Stay and Play Plus' Speedminding sessions, contact Renate Laux, Childminding Information Officer on 020 7527 5927 or email childminding@islington.gov.uk.

Choosing a Childminder

Childminders working with disabled children and their families

Some childminders in Islington have attended additional training supporting them to work with disabled children and their families. The Early Years Inclusion Team organised the training which was funded by the Disabled Children's Access to Childcare (DCATCH) grant. Further training and support will be offered to childminders in the future. On the vacancy list you will find an entry 'Has attended Disability Training' if a childminder has attended the training. For more information contact Renate Laux, Childminding Information Officer on 020 7527 5927 or email childminding@islington.gov.uk.

Childminding Networks

Childminders in Islington can join a childminding network which is a quality assurance scheme. A co-ordinator supports network childminders. This includes regular meetings, training and monitoring visits. For more information contact Renate Laux, Childminding Information Officer on 020 7527 5927 or email childminding@islington.gov.uk.

Contracts

Childminders must have a written agreement with parents, which you have both signed and dated. You should both have a copy. If you want to change it later, sign and date both copies. It should cover illness, holidays, hours, fees, notice and anything else you and the childminder want clearly worked out to prevent disputes. If you are concerned about an issue in the contract, such as fees or hours, speak to the childminder first. You can get more advice from the National Childminding Association on 0845 880 0044 or contact the Childminding Information Officer on 020 7527 5927.

Complaints about childminding

If you are concerned about any aspect of your childminder's work with children, speak to them first. If this does not sort the problem out, or if it is a complaint about a serious matter which may affect a child's welfare, ring Ofsted on 0300 123 1231.

Child protection

If you think that any child may be harmed or abused, contact Children's Social Care on 020 7527 7400 or 020 7226 0992 out of normal office hours.

Don't use an old childminders' list! People on an old list may no longer be minding.
